Policy/rule title: Deidentifying licensor initialsPolicy/rule numbers:*Release number:*Effective date: November 15, 2025Expiration date:*References:*Web address:*Discussion/interpretation

Currently adult foster home (AFH) licensors use their initials or note their last name when marking plans of correction as accepted or not accepted in the Corrective Action and Licensing Management System (CALMS). This information is posted publicly on the long-term care licensing website and potentially places licensor(s) at risk. -Since caregiver initials and names are deidentified in reports, Licensors shall also no longer use their initials or name when confirming corrections in their licensing reports.

Implementation/transition instructions

When the Licensors are noting the plan of correction in CALMS as accepted or not accepted the Licensors shall indicate the following:

“Accepted by the LLA” with the date recorded or “Not accepted by the LLA” with the date recorded. CALMS history will show which Licensors made the notation if that information is needed.

Local/branch action required

Implementation of policy as written.

Central office action required

Training and support as needed.
