Discussion/interpretation

This policy transmittal provides new guidance for APS workers when investigating reported abuse in Assisted Living Facilities (ALF) and Residential Care Facilities (RCF).

When conducting Facility APS investigations, OAR 411-020-0120(5)(d) requires APS staff to confirm that immediate protection for facility residents is in place and obtain and document a safety plan from the provider to correct any problem immediately. APS staff must also communicate with SOQ as needed on issues or concerns about the facility's safety plan.

This policy provides a new Facility Safety Plan (FSP) form for APS to give to the provider to document what steps they have taken, or will be taking, to ensure resident safety after a reported incident of abuse.

Current Process

APS staff are currently trained to ask the provider, upon APS arrival at the facility, what steps the provider has taken in response to the reported incident to ensure resident safety, both for the alleged victim and for other residents as needed (e.g. systemic reviews after a series of medication errors.) APS eventually documents those steps reported by the provider in the "Service Provider Actions" section in the Centralized Abuse Management (CAM) system.

Currently, APS communicates any immediate concerns about the adequacy of the service provider's actions to the APD Safety, Oversight, and Quality (SOQ) unit by various means. In some instances, a Report of Serious Event (ROSE) form may be submitted to alert SOQ to a serious incident and any ongoing safety concerns. Less imminent concerns may be communicated to SOQ staff via email, telephone, or referral to the SOQ Licensing Complaint Unit (LCU).

The lack of a consistent format for documenting the service provider's actions that can be quickly and easily shared can result in uncertainty and delays in determining what, if any, immediate intervention or regulatory action by SOQ should be taken in response to the incident.

New Process

This policy transmittal provides a new, consistent, format for APS to gather and more easily share the steps the provider has taken, or intends to take, to ensure safety after a reported incident of abuse as required by rule.

Implementation/transition instructions

When providing APS intervention in an ALF or RCF as part of an assigned investigation, the APS worker must:

1. Advise facility staff or administration of the allegation and any potential associated risks to the alleged victim or other residents.
2. Ask facility staff to complete and sign a Facility Safety Plan (FSP) form on the alleged incident, documenting what steps they have taken, or intend to take, to ensure safety considering the reported incident. Advise them that the FSP must be completed during the initial APS visit.
3. Meet with the alleged victim to assess their immediate safety and need for protective services, including the APS worker's own determination of the impact of the reported incident on the alleged victim, their understanding of their situation, and their wishes for intervention.
4. Meet with facility staff again to review the FSP, ask any questions needed to clarify the actions the provider has taken (or will be taking) and request any needed written clarifications on the form. Email any concerns about the adequacy of the FSP to SOQ at CBC.CorrectiveAction@odhsoha.oregon.gov, and staff any immediate safety concerns with the local APS supervisor.
5. Proceed with the investigative process – interviews, collecting records, etc.

6. Upload the FSP to the case in CAM within 24 hours of the initial visit. Write a summary of it in the Service Provider Actions section of CAM to capture the facility's actions in the final investigation report.
7. If a ROSE form has not already been submitted, assess whether the reported incident and initial information gathered during the initial visit meet the criteria for a completion of a ROSE form. If so, the investigator must complete a ROSE form and submit it to the APD Safety Team as required with the FSP attached.
8. During the investigation, discuss any concerns about the ongoing effectiveness of the FSP with the provider. Ask them to complete an updated form as needed to capture any new steps they have taken or intend to take.
9. If new incidents or allegations are discovered or reported during investigation, repeat steps 2-8 above to gather and document a new FSP related to the new allegation, unless the new allegation involves the exact same incident that is already addressed in the original FSP.
10. Communicate with SOQ via email at CBC.CorrectiveAction@odhsoha.oregon.gov during the investigation to report any significant changes to the condition of the alleged victim (e.g. AV has died as a result of the incident) or other information that SOQ may need to assess the need for regulatory action.
